YEAMANS HALL CLUB
CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
516 WEST 59TH STREET
NEW YORK 19, N. Y.

INFORMATION ON MEMBERSHIP

There is no initiation fee or similar entrance requirement. Dues are $300 per annum plus federal tax and are payable semi-annually in May and November. The annual dues for members up to 45 years of age are $150 plus tax. Members elected from March to September are not billed until the following November. Both men and women may qualify for membership. Membership of the club is limited in number and business references alone are not sufficient.

The names of candidates must be presented on the Club's membership forms. Form One is to be filled out by the applicant and Form Two is to be filled out in its entirety by both the proposer and seconder amplifying the qualifications of the candidate. Personal letters from the Club members are also desired wherever possible.

Members naturally have the first call on accommodations and are asked to make their reservations as early each season as possible. They and their immediate families — sons, daughters, sons- and daughters-in-law, grandchildren — are all entitled to full golfing and tennis privileges without guest fees.

GUEST PRIVILEGES

Guests are always welcome because there is no other way to become acquainted with life at Yeamans. For the present, there is no daily guest surcharge over room and board charges for members. The Club operates on the American Plan and the daily charge for large double and single bedrooms with open fireplace and private bath is set forth in the annual November letter to members.

Guest accommodations are assigned after the seasonal reservations of regular members have been allotted. It is suggested that guests be invited in January and the first half of February, when there is a greater selection of rooms. Weather and golfing conditions are practically identical at Yeamans during the entire season, which extends from Christmas through the first week of April.

Guests must in all cases be registered as the guest of a member. Guests are not eligible for more than two visits unless they are house guests of a proprietary member. The cooperation of house owners is sought, however, in enlisting their guests for membership. The most important insurance for the future life of the Club is a growing membership, as naturally the greater the annual revenue the more successful the continuance of the high standard of our operations.

At Yeamans there are no extras of any description, except that guests are required to pay nominal daily greens fees for one of the finer 18-hole golf courses in the country. A competent golf professional and his assistant are always in attendance.

The Club maintains two good tennis courts and offers clay pigeon shooting over the marshes from a modern trap which has been set up in the pine woods east of Sunset Drive. In addition, there are several private shooting clubs within a radius of forty miles and there is momentarily one location where quail shooting may be had on a daily basis during the season. Arrangements can also be made for the charter of a cabin cruiser for river trips or for fishing.

Completely furnished houses of members are occasionally available by direct lease from the owner. Such tenants must be approved by the membership committee and application for Club membership must become a part of any lease.

For any further information or membership blanks, write to William H. Zinsser, 516 West 59 Street, New York 19, N. Y. Telephone: COlumbus 5-2800.
