Section 1. (b) Purposes of Act.---

It is the purpose of this Act to effectuate the policies set out in Section 1 (a) by providing, among others, for the following major programs relating to intelligence and for their implementation:

1. A program for the operation of such intelligence services of the Federal Government as the National Intelligence Authority determines can best be performed centrally.

2. A program for the planning, development, and coordination of all Federal foreign intelligence activities.

3. A program for the collection of foreign information by any and all means deemed effective, including overt, covert, and clandestine methods.

4. A program of research and evaluation of the information collected in order to produce intelligence for the appropriate departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

5. A program for the dissemination of the intelligence produced to the appropriate departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

6. A program for the full administration and execution of the above.
(1) A national program for the collection of foreign intelligence material by any and all means deemed effective by the National Intelligence Authority, including the centralized operation of foreign intelligence services.

(2) A national program for the coordination of all departments' foreign intelligence activities designed for the production of foreign intelligence for the use of the President and other appropriate officials of the government in the formulation of policies and plans in the interests of national security.

(3) A national program for the full implementation of the above.
Sec. 2. (a) National Intelligence Authority.——

(1) There is hereby established a National Intelligence Authority (herein called the Authority), which shall be composed of five members. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy shall be members of the Authority. The President shall designate a fourth member of the Authority to serve as his personal representative thereon. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the personal representative of the President shall constitute the sole voting members of the Authority. The Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, hereinafter provided for, shall sit as the fifth member of the Authority, as a non-voting member thereof. The Secretary of State shall serve as Chairman of the Authority.

(2) The members of the Authority shall hold their positions thereon by virtue of their respective offices, and their membership on the Authority shall be co-extensive with their tenure of such offices. The members of the Authority shall serve without compensation for this service and shall perform this service in addition to such other activities, public or private, as they may engage in.

(3) In the absence of the Secretaries of State, War, and the Navy, or any one of them, the appropriate Acting Secretary shall sit as a member of the Authority. If the personal representative of the President is absent the Secretaries or Acting Secretaries of State, War, and the Navy shall constitute a quorum of the Authority.

(4) The Authority shall hold such meetings, conduct such hearings, and receive such reports as may be necessary to enable it to carry out the provisions of this Act. The Authority shall meet at least once each month.

(5) The Authority shall be served by a Secretariat, consisting of a Secretary and such other technical, administrative, and clerical assistance as shall [be deemed] necessary. The Central Intelligence Agency, hereinafter provided for, will be responsible for furnishing the Secretariat with personnel. The Secretary shall be charged with preparing the agenda for meetings of the Authority, attending such meetings, keeping and publishing the minutes thereof, preparing the directives and other papers of the Authority, reviewing and circulating papers for consideration, and maintaining the necessary offices and records of the Authority, providing secretarial and clerical assistance,
(6) The National Intelligence Authority will determine policies, for, and supervise and direct, the Central Intelligence Agency in the planning, development, and coordination of the foreign intelligence activities of the Government agencies of the United States, as well as in the conduct of those foreign intelligence operations which can best be performed centrally, in such a manner as to assure the most effective accomplishment of the intelligence mission relating to the national defense and security.

(7) Policies approved by the Authority in relation to the foreign intelligence activities of the United States, insofar as they affect the national defense and security, will govern the foreign intelligence activities of the various departments and agencies of the Government.

(8) The Authority shall have the right to transfer responsibilities and authorities in the field of foreign intelligence between departments and agencies of the Government.

(9) If the decisions of the Authority on matters set forth in Sec. 2 (a) (5) or 2(a)(9) of this Act are not unanimous, the Authority shall refer the matter to the President, whose decision shall be final.
Sec. 2. (b) Central Intelligence Agency.

(1) There is hereby established a Central Intelligence Agency (herein called the Agency), with a Director of Central Intelligence who shall be the head thereof, to be appointed from civilian or military life by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to serve at the pleasure of the President. The Director shall receive compensation at the rate of $17,500 per annum.

(2) There shall be a Deputy Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, appointed from civilian or military life by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to serve at the pleasure of the President. The Deputy Director shall receive compensation at the rate of $15,000 per annum. The Deputy Director shall be authorized to sign such letters, papers, and documents, and to perform such other duties as may be directed by the Director of Central Intelligence, and to act as Director in the absence of that officer, or in the case of a vacancy in the office of Director.

(3) There shall be an Executive Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, appointed from civilian or military life by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Executive Director shall receive compensation at the rate of $15,000 per annum. The Executive Director shall discharge such of the administrative and executive functions of the Agency as the Director of Central Intelligence may direct.

(4) The duties of the Agency, as outlined in Sec. 3 of this Act, shall be performed by the appropriate offices of the Agency. Each office shall be under the direction of an Assistant Director, who shall be appointed by the Director of Central Intelligence, and shall receive compensation at the rate of $11,000 per annum. The Assistant Directors shall be limited to six in number.

(5) Any officer of the Foreign Service of the United States, and any commissioned officer of the United States Army, the United States Navy, or the United States Army Air Forces, may be assigned to or detailed for duty with the Agency; and such service shall in no way affect any status, office, rank or grade he may occupy or hold in the Foreign Service of the United States, the United States Army, the United States Navy, or the United States Army Air Forces, or any emolument, perquisite, right privilege, or benefit incident to or arising out of any such status, office, rank, or grade, notwithstanding the provisions of Title 10 U.S. Code, Sec. 576 and Public Law 71-47, 70th Congr. (1926), approved August 13, 1926, and entitled "An Act to improve, strengthen, and expand the Foreign Service of the United States and to consolidate and revise the laws relating to its administration," or any other law pertaining to such pay and allowances. Any such Foreign Service officer or commissioned officer on the active list shall receive, while serving in the positions established in Sec. 2 (b) of this Act, the foreign service or the military pay and allowances payable to an officer of his grade and length of service, and shall be paid, from any funds available to defray the expenses of the agency, annual compensation at a rate equal to the difference between the salary set forth in Sec. 2 (b) of this Act and the amount of his annual foreign service or military pay and allowances.

(6) Notwithstanding, section 2 of the Act of July 31, 1894 (28 Stat. 205), as amended (5 U.S.C. 52), or section 6 of the Act of May 13, 1916 (39 Stat. 120), as amended (5 U.S.C. 58, 59), Director of Central Intelligence may appoint to, and employ in, any civilian office or position in the Agency, and pay, any retired commissioned officer, or retired warrant officer, of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Public Health Service. The retired status, office, rank, and grade of retired commissioned officers, or retired warrant officers, so appointed or employed and, except as provided in section 212 of the Act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 606), as amended (5 U.S.C. 59a) any emolument, perquisite, right, privilege, or benefit incident to discharging out of any such status, office, rank, or grade, shall be in no way affected by reason of such appointment to or employment in, or by reason of service in, or acceptance or holding of, any civilian office or position in the Agency, or the receipt of the pay thereof.
Sec. 2. (c) Intelligence Advisory Board

(1) The Director of Central Intelligence shall be advised by an Intelligence Advisory Board, consisting of the heads (or their representatives) of all principal civilian and military intelligence activities of the Government functions related to the national defense and security as determined by the National Intelligence Authority.

(2) Members of the board shall serve without compensation for duties thereupon, and shall perform this service in addition to any other activity they may engage in.

(3) The Intelligence Advisory Board shall be composed of the organizations provided for in Section 2 (a) (5) of this Act.